

THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY JULY 13.

The trials thus far this year of the aldermanic boodle gang in New York, have cost the taxpayers of New York county $30,000.

The directory man of New York claims for that city a present population of 1,600,000. And directory men's estimates of population, as is well known, are proverbially modest.

Cholera is reported to have broken out on the Italian island of Sardinia, in the Mediterranean. The disease is reported to be raging fearfully in the city of Catania, in the island of Sicily, where, out of 200 cases, there have been 140 deaths.

The highest price ever paid for real estate in this country was given last week in Philadelphia. A plot of 10 feet front on Chestnut and 31 feet on Fourth street, sold for $85,000—$150 per square foot. The highest previous price was $145 per square foot for a small lot in Wall street, New York.

More official scandal is coming to light in Washington. The exposures thus far have been damaging to the administration, and now we have the following on the authority of a paper published at the national capital: "Since the recent exposure of the strange business dealings of the late financial clerk of the patent office there have been many stories circulated about a prominent official high in the affairs of said office and his very strange way of obtaining loans. This individual is chief of one of the rooms in which a large number of clerks, male and female, are employed, and since his coming into power he has been a rather long whip over the heads of the clerks and ruled them with a rod of iron. The stories that have lately been told are to the effect that under guise of his official duties, he has exacted loans from the female clerks and has studiously forgotten the fact that he procured the indorsement of several of the clerks on notes by which he managed to raise quite a sum, and upon the maturing failed to meet his obligations, thus making it necessary for the indorsers to do so. This gallant chief is said to hold a high claim with the powers that be, and fear of removal has kept the mouths of the clerks shut in consequence. A reporter of the Washington Herald asked several of the clerks in the office as to the truth or falsity of the statement, and while none would say or give any detail to work upon, a few of them hinted that such a state of affairs really existed. Chief Clerk Duryee said he had heard of it in an unofficial manner, but as none of the outside told him from the clerks, but as none of the injured parties had complained he had no right to move in the matter. 'Oh,' said Mr. Duryee, 'if the stories are true that I hear, the proceedings are disgraceful and a merit condemnation.'"

THE WORK OF A CENTURY.

To-day—July 13th—is the centennial anniversary of the organization of the "territory of the Northwest," and was the first territory organized by the congress of the United States. This territory did not extend beyond the Mississippi river, but included what are now the states of Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio. The story of this "territory of the Northwest," has been written by Mr. William M. Noyes, and which is shown what this part of the United States has done during the century which has just passed. The domain of the United States on the 13th of July 1787, embraced all the territory east of the Mississippi river, excepting Florida. The progress of this country in acquiring territory can be seen from the following:

In 1790 the United States government, by the payment of $15,000,000, secured from France her province of Louisiana. This province included what is now Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Dakota, the larger part of Montana, the larger part of Wyoming, part of Colorado, Nebraska, and the Indian territory, and was 900,928 square miles in extent, or more than 100,000 square miles larger than the original domain of the country. In the year 1820 the government paid $5,000,000 to Spain for the Florida, taking in a territory of 53,740 square miles in extent. In 1810 the territory of Oregon was added, taking in 230,425 square miles. In 1848 the government paid $15,000,000 for what is now the state of California, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, and the western part of Colorado. In 1853 an additional strip of land was purchased for $10,000,000, these two purchases adding a territory of 934,260 square miles to the United States. In 1857 an additional strip of land was purchased for the sum of $7,000,000, this adding 577,800 square miles more. In a hundred years the territory of the United States has been increased by purchase and annexation by 2,752,723 square miles, at a cost, not exceeding the expense of war, of $82,200,000.

Just what the next century will bring forth is difficult to guess. Mr. Noyes thinks the United States will have Canada, Mexico and Central America before another century rolls by; and judging from the past, it will not be an impossible prediction to say that during the century to come the United States will absorb those countries.

Light here it may be well to add to the remarkable story of a hundred years, the rapidly growing wealth of this country. Mr. Mulhall, the English statistician from whom the Gazette quoted some interesting figures last week, published on the result of his investigations some years ago that this country was adding to its wealth yearly about as much as Great Britain, France and Germany combined, as follows: Germany $200,000,000 yearly, France $207,000,000 yearly, and Great Britain $225,000,000 yearly, the United States $875,000,000. But the census bureau, as the result of its investigation regard-

LIGHTNING'S FATAL BOIT.

NINE NEGROES KILLED INSTANTLY.

They Unfortunately Took Shelter Under a Tree While Raining from a Funeral—Other Accidents.

MOORE PRESENT. "Tues. July 12.—This day afternoon at 2 and 3 o'clock, the funeral of Harry Terry, colored, having been concluded, and the crowd dispersing, a severe thunder and rain storm came up. A party of nine negroes sheltered under a large oak tree, standing in the cemetery, which was struck by lightning, killing them all instantly.

The names of those killed are as follows: WILLIAM HUGH, pastor of the colored Methodist Episcopal church; HATTIE BURGILL, his wife; JOHN HANNAH, a minister engaged in missionary work; MANUEL DICK, a Methodist preacher; JOHN RUDOLPH, a Methodist preacher; HESTER TERRY, mother of the girl who was buried.

And ROSE TERRY, daughters of Hester Terry.

SHIRAZA THURTELL.

Three others who were sheltered under a tree saw the party killed, but were themselves uninjured. It was noticed that the part of each body nearest the tree was scorched and their clothes torn. The most intense excitement prevailed during all the evening, and the wailing and mourning of the frightened negroes was heartrending.

A Big Colliery Burning.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 13.—One of the best collieries of the Philadelphia & Reading company, located at Brandeelsville, seven miles west of Pottsville, is on fire and is probably doomed to destruction, entailing a loss to the company amounting to $100,000. The fire was discovered about 6 o'clock Sunday night by a pump-jack named Ferguson, who was at the time alone in the mines. It had, it is believed, ignited from the steam pipes which were leaking at the time. Ferguson pulled the bell rope at once and was hoisted out of danger.

The colliery whistle sounded an alarm through the patch and across the hills to the miners. In an hour hundreds of people were on the scene. A short while later a fire engine and a fire hose were sent to the mine. The fire was extinguished about 10 o'clock. The mine was damaged and the coal was lost. The fire was caused by a leak in the steam pipes which were leaking at the time.

Three Midshipmen Perish.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 13.—A sad accident occurred here Sunday evening in which three midshipmen of the majesty's ship Canby were drowned. Sunday afternoon F. J. Taylor, H. G. Jenkins, and A. W. Stewart left their ship to enjoy a sail in the harbor. They went up as far as Belford, about eight miles from the city, and, after enjoying themselves on shore, started to return about 8 o'clock. The wind was very high and they put up all sail. They were advised before leaving to use great care. The boat did not return to the ship, and the three midshipmen were found dead in the harbor.

A Second Fiery Visitation.

BRAZIL, Ind., July 13.—The business part of Kiptsville, a few miles east of Logansport, was destroyed by fire at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning for the second time this year. Twenty stores, several barns, the postoffice and a number of residences were burned. The loss is at least $50,000; insurance about $20,000. The origin of the fire is unknown. But for the timely arrival, on a special train, of the local fire department, the town would have been wiped out.

Five Men Captive in a Yacht.

BOSTON, Mass., July 13.—A member of the Hull Yacht Club reports that on Sunday afternoon, while on board his yacht, which was anchored between Long Point and Long Islands, in Boston Harbor, he saw a boat containing five men captive a mile away. He put out in a small boat for the place where the accident occurred, but when he arrived he could find nothing. Efforts are being made to find the boat.

Destructive Forest Fire.

ELIZABETH, N. Y., July 13.—New Addison great destruction by fire is going on just over the Pennsylvania State line. Many thousands of cords of timber, a million feet of logs, large quantities of manufactured lumber have been destroyed, and a big tract on the Hudson & Westchester railroad. The fire is in the forests and spreading for miles around.

Midwife's Wife for a Murderer.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., July 13.—At 10 o'clock Tuesday morning Mr. W. A. Garner, resident of Royal Center, in the northern part of the county, was awakened by some one knocking at his door. He went to the door and a woman he thought it was a burglar and fired at it. The body fell. When he got a light he found he had shot his wife and she was dead.

An Ore Schooner Sunk.

CHENOWETH, Mich., July 13.—Schooner The Fish Hawk, in tow of the propeller Nashua, stranded and sunk to the decks on Beaver Island. The Nashua came here for help yesterday, but the Leviathan being away a wrecking tug was sent from Detroit. The vessel is laden with ore, and much exposed to all kinds of weather.

THE PACIFIC INQUIRY.

Senator Teller Denies the Union Pacific Helped Elect Him.

DENVER, Colo., July 13.—Senator Teller, ex-Gov. Evans, General Manager of the Union Pacific and Grant Smelter company, ex-Director of the Union Pacific, ex-Auditor of the Union Pacific and South Park railroad, testified before the Pacific Railroad commission Tuesday. Mr. Teller testified that his company, in 1892, made a twenty-five-year contract with the Union Pacific to send half its shipments over that road in consideration of the road building trucks to its works. Mr. Teller testified that his company was cooperative despite the Inter-State Commerce law. Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Evans described the method of transferring the South Park to the Union Pacific. Mr. Loveland testified that Gould and Silver Dillon had suggested to him to run for Governor of Colorado. They had never suggested that he run for the Senate. Senator Teller, examined by Mr. Teller, testified that he did not believe a word of the testimony yesterday to the effect that his company had been paid during the Senatorial election campaign. Certainly no money was put up to help him. If the Union Pacific used any influence it would be against him, as he had favored the Union Pacific in the past. His own company had contributed more than this when not a candidate. His old firm, consisting of himself, brother and another, had been attorneys for the Union Pacific for twenty years of the time $8,000 or $9,000 a year, but since 1882 he had not been connected with the firm or the company. He said he thought the Government should charge the Union Pacific a fixed sum per annum instead of a percentage of its business, as the latter method led to numerous disputes.

THE LAND BILL.

Debate in the House of Commons Over That Measure.

LONDON, July 13.—Mr. Dillon resumed his debate on the land bill in the House of Commons last night. He said he rejected the measure with contempt, as utterly inadequate to meet the needs of the Irish tenant. He rebuked Mr. Chamberlain's assertion that past efforts of English statesmen to ameliorate the condition of the people had invariably met with untimely failure. He pointed out that the only real advantage English statesmen ever offered had been eagerly seized. Attacking the clause of the bill relating to the land court, and place in landlord's hands a new and terribly irrevocable engine of eviction.

THE CUSTOMS APPRAISERS CONTINUE.

New York, July 13.—The meeting of United States appraisers, under the Treasury Department order of June 6, was continued Tuesday. Appraiser McMullen called the meeting to order. It being the first day of regular business, considerable business was done, which hereafter will not come. Mr. McMullen stated that the entire tariff list would be gone through with at this meeting, which will take several weeks. The following items will be of shorter duration, as only special commodities come up for discussion. The first on the list are drugs and chemicals, which are now under discussion. A full report will be sent to the Treasury at Washington at the end of the meeting, and until then Mr. McMullen thought no official report could be given.

An End to Non-Smoking.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electro Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. I have had a running sore on my leg for eight years. My doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electro Bitters and even boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and my leg is now sound and well.

Electro Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at 25 cents per box, by Frank Sherer & Co.
